2-8 May 2015, Utah field trip seminar on Production Geology

One of our sponsors, PanTerra Geoconsultants B.V. organises a field trip in Utah-Colorado.

This field seminar is taught by Dr. Evert van de Graaff.

Focus is on developing production geological and reservoir modeling skills based on examination of a wide range of superbly exposed, field-scale reservoir analogues. The format of the field seminar is to examine each of the reservoir analogues from the perspective of how the visible geological features would affect field development options & production geological decision making assuming a variety of recovery mechanisms. PanTerra is pleased to offer attendance of this field seminar to professionals actively engaged in E&P activities and/or subsurface studies.
